"Convincing the Doubters – and winning their support!"

My Dear Friends,

This month I would like you to consider participating in an educational campaign to bring some of the recently – and semi-officially - released video evidence of encounters between the US military and Unidentified Ariel Vehicles to the attention of the General Public .

This is an opportunity that is simply 'too-good-to-miss' and we should at least attempt to use this material to win-over the doubters; with a view to convincing more people that: not only are extraterrestrials visiting Planet Earth, but they (the general public) also need to consider reaching out to – and seeking to engage with – our Star Nation visitors.

If we can convince people of the truth: that extraterrestrials are here to engage with them, then getting those people to sign and support our petition should be that much easier.

In December, last year, we saw two videos released, and another only this month, depicting encounters between US Navy: carrier launched, fighter bomber aircraft, and fast moving, anomalous aerial objects. The appearance of the objects : with no wings or jet exhaust, no propellers, and stunning flight characteristics, makes it highly unlikely that these craft are "terrestrial in origin".

- (For this is how Luis Elizondo, the CIA officer in charge of the Advanced Aviation Threat Assessment Program – and the guy responsible for releasing these videos - evaluated these anomalous aerial objects: IE, "unlikely to be of terrestrial origin.")

The provenance of this videographic evidence is arguably beyond reproach. Short of extraterrestrial spacecraft repeatedly appearing over Washington DC, as they did back in 1952, it really doesn't get any better than this (from a semi-official 'disclosure' viewpoint).

But for me the most striking feature of these videos is the reactions of the Airmen involved. They were obviously amazed at the performance of these 'wingless wonders' - whose maneuvering capability they couldn't hope to match - but at no point do they sound alarmed; their reactions are not those of someone facing a threatening situation.

- (Would they react this way if they suspected the unknown aircraft to be Russian or Chinese military technology : being flown a few scant miles from the American coastline?)

These airmen clearly know something that we also know: extraterrestrials come in peace, ALL OF THEM!

Video 3 was released just this month.

You can read a Time Magazine article, with video interviews (including with ex CIA officer Luis Elizondo), about one of these remarkable US military/ UAV encounters, by following the link below.

My Friends, without going into the details the threat of war and direct confrontation between the super powers continues to worsen. If we are going to make a difference – and have a real impact – we haven't got a lot of time left in which to do it. It is imperative – now - that we up our game. We have to reach out people, we have to convince people that they – themselves – can have an impact: and that they can achieve this by joining with us in our quest for Universal Peace.

Thank you for everything you do. Keep well.

Peace, Love & Respect
